“ It really saddens me to know that someone who was so full of life is no longer with us. I know that having the support of so many great friends has made this a little easier on her family, and I thank them for that.
Angela, you are loved and will be missed by me and many other people.

She was a breath of fresh air, she was the beauty in Jacks and our lives, she was kind, caring, loving, funny, she would always be there for her family and friends. When I was in the hospital in 2003, on my death bed, Angela and Jack saw to it that my family was ok threw my darkest hour. Jack please know I am here for you as always brother! Angela, we all love you, although are time on earth is never certain, one thing for sure, we will join you soon through Christ and continue our journey to be together again! God bless you Jack and the entire family! RIP!

“ How lucky I am to have had Angela and her family in my life. I always admired her fierce love for her family. She never forgot to call me and my mom on our birthdays, that astounded me! She will always remain a bright light in my heart. Sending much love to the family.

“ Serena, Al, Jack, Austin (and the rest of the family whom we haven't met)... Words can't express how sorry we were to hear of this. We can't understand why the best are taken only to leave so many bad ones behind, but hopefully it's all part of some greater plan and you'll be reunited again one day. I can honestly say that it was an absolute pleasure knowing Angela and there aren't enough like her (and I don't say that about many people). I'll never forget Angela, Jack and Austin stopping by my store to just goof off and say "hey"- definite bright spots during some stressful times for me. Al and Serena- I definitely owe you both for introducing me to Angela and Jack and Austin. Truly some of the best people I've ever had the pleasure of knowing. Please imagine us hugging you all. ~Robert (and Cyndi)
