“ Patrick and I dated in High School. He was my HS sweetheart. We broke up and I hadn't seen or heard from him since 1987, only to find out 24 years later that we had both been living within 15 miles of each other the entire time and just never ran into each other. We both were married and divorced to other people. In 2011 I went on a beach hopping adventure to California with my friend Hilary to see my other gf Marykay...while i was there another girlfriend of Marykays came to hang out with us and it just so happen to be Patrick's older sister, Keri. I had never met her when we dated in HS becoz she was older and moved out already. So when i got back from my beach adventure Patrick and I went on our 1st date on 7/26/2011...the U2 concert at Heinz field...thanx sister Larna for very last minute tickets. It was just like HS, my mommy picked up Patrick and drove us to Pittsburgh for the show....we havent left each others side since that day. We got married on May 31, 2014. Our only regret was not staying together in HS and having a family together. Patrick was the best father to my youngest son who was 15 when we started dating, which was not an easy task for either of them...but they became very close. Judge was Patrick's son. My oldest son Garrett was out on his own when Patrick moved in..but he loved him just as much and was very excited about becoming Pappy Patrick. Patrick loved to tell people we would meet our love story. He loved cruises, flowers, dogs, and beer of course and our Florida beach home. He was the love of my life and soulmate. True Karma, Love and God brought us back to each other after 24 years. I miss you my love.

“ I am very saddened to hear of the adding of a dear friend of mine. I met Patrick a few years back when shannon and I reconnected in Florida as we were both living in the west coast and within an hour and a half of each other. It was if a day hasn't past in over 20 years of not seeing Shannon. We jived right back were we left off. Friends. Patrick and I hit it off instantly and I grew to love him to pieces. Patrick loved my Zelda Marie and they were best buds when around each other. Over the next year (2017) we became a little family of friends and hung out a lot. The. In 2018 life was crazzzzzzzy. Work was crazzzzzzzy and we lost touch. In the mean time I moved back to PA and went back to Florida for vacation. Shannon and Patrick's was a must to visit. Unfortunately Shan wasn't home. But We got to see Patrick and even have dinner and some beach time. We will always remember you. Definitely a diamond in the rough. You will always remain in my heart. Until we meet again my friend. Rest with Angels.
